

A multi-culture village community in Yeongdeungpo-gu, Seoul

-Part of 13 such communities to be formed in Seoul

A multi-culture village community will be formed in Yeongdeungpo-gu as part of Seoul Metropolitan Government's plan for the formation of 13 such communities in Seoul, such as one in Daerim 2-dong where about 7,700 Chinese live, including Korean-Chinese, making up about half of the residents.

The plan includes the operation of sarangbang (lounge) for migrant people in Daerim 2-dong considering the high concentration of Chinese and provision of support for the formation of such communities in 12 other areas.

Seoul Metropolitan Government said on May 6 that it would push through with a project for the invigoration b

Employees of the Center will visit them in person to provide explanation within three days.

Notice of Receiving Applications for the Project for the Invigoration of Multi-culture Village Communities

