

We will continue listening to our citizens' opinions and striving to transform them into effective policies.

